Student

PROFILE

As a responsible and orderly computer science student majoring in web development and design, I am passionate about creating innovative web solutions. Eager to secure my first work experience, I possess a strong foundation in front-end and backend technologies such as JavaScript, React, Next.js with a keen interest in UI/UX design principles. My commitment to continuous learning, problem-solving skills, and a proactive approach makes me a dedicated candidate ready to contribute and grow in a professional environment. Looking forward to leveraging my skills and enthusiasm to make a meaningful impact in the field of web development.
